Hi,

I adopted the proposed new structure of the infrastructure schema for the timetable schema as well.

The new version V1.05 shows the look and feel of this new structure. The XML-files to be validated are still the same as for V1.04, only the XSD has been changed.

Please have look at this working draft and comment on it. This will be useful for the future development off all railML-schemas.

Kind regards,
Joachim
