Dear all,

some additional remarks from IS point of view:

The technical realisation of the electrification system is currently hold in the functional infrastructure element <electrificationSection> with enumeration attribute @contactLineType (Values: "3rdRailBottom", "3rdRailSide", "3rdRaiilTop", "overhead", "sideRail", "none"; extendable).

The proposal of Jörg is to move this information from the infrastructure schema to the element <electrificationSystem> in the common schema.

Any comments on this proposal are highly appreciated...

Best regards
Christian
