Dear Christian,

Agreed. But more general, this applies not only to <ocsElements> but also to (at least some) <trackElements> so please do not call it "ocsCode".

I would prefer to use the name for notifying that we mean a rule book number. So what about "ruleBookCode" or "ruleCode"? (Could later become "ruleRef" if we possibly will have <operationalRules> scheme in far futuer...)

Best regards,
Dirk.
